Welcome new and experienced painters

Ready to brush off the winter chill? Spring is approaching. Lets welcome the sunshine by painting blooms from the Pacific Northwest.

Leony's Cellars is joining with local artist, Patricia Moss to offer this no experience required class. The focus will be on instruction and individual coaching. Students are free to follow step by step instructions or paint their own way.

All materials provided. So come on your own or gather your friends and contact Leony's to reserve a seat before space runs out.
